DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Applicant's election of Group II, claims 1-4, 15-16 in Paper No. 8 is acknowledged. Because applicant did not distinctly and specifically point out the supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election has been treated as an election without traverse (MPEP § 818.03(a)).

Specification

The disclosure is objected to because of the following informalities: IN the specification, page 1, first paragraph, U.S. Pat. Application Serial No. should be updated.

Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 1-4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

In claim 1, step (b), "the lower electrode" is indefinite since it is unclear as what electrode it is referred to. --the lower electrode of the capacitor element-- is suggested.

In claims 2-4, it is unclear as how could the resistance value be adjusted by ion-implantation of impurity in the resistance element if it is of metal? Or how could the silicide is formed if the resistance element is not of polysilicon?

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1-4, ~~15~~ 16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Nagai in view of Koo et al. and Erdeljac et al..

Nagai, figs. 1-40 and text on col. 5-19 discloses substantially the claimed method for forming a semiconductor device including the steps of simultaneously forming bit line 21 and connection layer 20 (fig. 12); simultaneously forming dielectric layer 42 and upper electrodes 27, 40 for cell capacitor and capacitor element (fig. 15).

Nagai fails to teach the step of simultaneously forming a storage node 25, 26 of the cell capacitor and the lower electrode of the capacitor element; and further forming resistance element; however, Koo et al., in a related method for forming capacitor electrodes for integrated circuit, figs. 1-4 and text on col. 1-7, teaches the steps of simultaneously forming capacitor electrodes for cell capacitor in the memory area and element capacitor in the peripheral region; and Erdeljac et al., discloses the step of simultaneously forming resistance elements 32, 34, 56 from the step of forming upper electrode 36 of the capacitor.

It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to have used the teachings from Koo et al. and Erdeljac et al. for simultaneously forming capacitors in both DRAM region and peripheral region, and further forming resistance elements in Nagai in order to reduce the process steps, complexity and cost.

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Natsume, Takada et al., and Jung are cited as of interest.
